Value of Donated Securities

Your gift of publicly traded securities will be valued for receipting purposes at the close of date market value on the day the security is received in Shine Foundation’s brokerage account. Although donated securities are normally sold the same day they are received, there may still be a small fluctuation in value due to the difference between receipt and sale times. This in no way affects the value you will be able to claim on your tax return, which will be the value shown on your donation receipt.
